

Toxic Mold Allegedly Caused Boy's Sickness

Lyn. M. Montagna, Aliso Viejo News

February 18, 1999 - Construction defect attorney Thomas E. Miller is investigating allegations that potentially toxic mold is causing chronic-cold like symptoms in a 12-year old boy who lives in the California Renaissance development of Aliso Viejo.

Fourteen other incidents of sickness related to mold have reportedly been documented in the development, in addition to several in the Villagio II complex in San Clemente.

Miller contends that the mold is the result of a construction defect in the affected homes, a defect caused by water seepage.

At 11 tonight KCBS News is scheduled to air an investigative report devoted to the topic of toxic mold.

Miller is representing the homeowners in construction defect lawsuits.
